

PRECIOUS METALS OF NORTH AMERICA

NON DISCLOSURE AGREEMENT 2015

This agreement is made as of the current date as noted below and between Precious Metals of North America (PMONA), a Wyoming LLC with a regional office at 1055 E Colorado Blvd., Fifth Floor, Pasadena, CA 91106 (the Company) and (An Individual or Entity). This agreement is entered into with the intent of protecting vital financial interests of both the bulk purchaser and the company.

1. The Purpose. The Company when disseminating information in connection with a proposed bulk material purchase may disclose its Confidential Information (as defined below) to the Recipient, and the Recipient may disclose Confidential Information to the Company.
2. Definition of Confidential Information. Confidential Information means any information, technical data, or know-how, including but not limited to, that which relates to research, product plans, products, services, customers, markets, software, developments, inventions, processes, designs, drawings, engineering, hardware configuration information, marketing or finances of the Company and the potential purchaser, which all shall be deemed as Confidential Information. Confidential Information does not include information, technical data or know how which (i) is in the possession of the receiving party at the time of disclosure as shown by the receiving party's files and records immediately prior to the time of disclosure, or (ii) prior to or after the time of disclosure becomes part of the public knowledge or literature other than as a result of any improper inaction or action on the part of the Company or the Recipient or, (iii) is approved by the Company or Recipient, in writing, for release.
3. Nondisclosure of Confidential Information. The Recipient and the Company mutually agree NOT to use any Confidential Information disclosed to each of them by either of them for their own use of for any purpose other than to carry out discussions concerning the undertaking of the purchase agreement. Neither the Recipient nor the Company will disclose any Confidential Information of the Parties to entities outside the relationship engendered by that agreement. The Parties agree that they will take all reasonable measures to protect the secrecy of and avoid disclosure or use of Confidential Information of all the Parties in the prospective relationship in order to prevent it from falling into the public domain or the possession of persons other than those persons authorized under this Agreement to have any such information. This information includes in particular certain mineral rights and interests held by the recipients and technologies pertaining to their key markets and marketing relationships as well as known whereabouts of minerals of interest to both parties. These reasonable measures shall include the highest degree of care that the receiving party utilizes to protect its own Confidential Information of a similar nature. The Parties agree to notify each other in writing of any misuse or misappropriation of Confidential Information of the disclosing party, which may come to the receiving party's attention.

4. Publicity. The Parties will not, without prior consent of the other party, disclose to any other person, the fact that Confidential Information of the other party has been disclosed under this agreement, that discussions or negotiations are taking place between the parties, or any of the terms conditions, status or other facts with respect thereto, except as required by law and then only with prior notice as soon as possible to the other party.
5. Return of Materials. Any materials or documents that have been furnished by the Company to the Recipient or the Recipient to the Company in connection with the Relationship will be promptly returned by the respective party, accompanied by all copies of such documentation or certification of destruction, within ten (10) days after (i) the Relationship has been terminated or (ii) the written request of the Company.
6. Patent or Copyright Infringement. Nothing in this agreement is intended to grant any rights to the Recipient or the Company with regard to any and all rights of each Party's rights to patents or copyrights.
7. Term. The forgoing commitments of each party shall survive any termination of the Relationship between the parties for a period of three years after application of Section 5 above.
8. Successors and Assigns. This agreement shall be binding upon and for the benefits of the undersigned parties, their successors and assigns, provided that Confidential Information of the Company may not be assigned without the prior written consent of the Company. Failure to enforce any provision of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of any term hereof.

9. Governing Law. This agreement shall be governed by and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of California and shall be binding upon the Recipient in the United States and worldwide.
10. Remedies. The Recipient agrees that any violation or threatened violation will cause irreparable injury, both financial and strategic, to the Company and in addition to any and all remedies that may be available, in law, in equity or otherwise, the Company shall be entitled to injunctive relief against the threatened breach of this Agreement by the Recipient without the necessity of proving actual damages. Additional Terms of the Agreement a) each party may provide the information that is subject to this agreement to its agents, advisors, employees, lawyers and accountants on a need to know basis. Such parties will be required to sign a NDA. b) If the non-disclosure agreement is terminated all receiving parties are required to destroy copies of information subject to the agreement or provide an affidavit confirming they are no longer in possession of such information. This commitment will survive for three (3) years following such termination. c) This Non-Disclosure Agreement does not commit or bind the parties in any way whatsoever it merely provides a platform on which the parties can discuss freely without commitment the possibility of moving forward together in formulating a business arrangement by way of a purchase agreement.

Signature Agreement

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this Non-Disclosure Agreement as of the date first above written.

PMONA Precious Metals of North America

By: Michael George Godfree, President